Six Dead In Bus Accident

LEXINGTON, Va. (UP) — A Greyhound bus carrying 39 passengers smashed into a disabled trailer - truck near here Friday night killing six persons and injuring 32 others.

Rescuers using acetyline torches and wrecker hoists worked for nearly two hours to free the passengers—some of them seriously injured — and remove the dead from the twisted wreckage of the glass-domed "Scenicruiser."

Police said the bus, en route from Memphis, Tenn., to New York, crashed into the rear of the parked cross-country truck shortly after 7 p.m. EST on the rise of a small hill. The truck had pulled to the side of the busy, divided highway because of motor trouble and the driver, who was slightly injured, had just set out emergency flares.

Ambulances and wreckers from four nearby communities rushed the injured to hospitals here as they were freed from the twisted steel and the jammed seats of the bus.

Gives Grim Description

Traffic on the heavily-traveled U.S. Highway 11 running through Virginia's Shenandoah Valley was routed to the other lane as workers cut through twisted beams and doctors administered temporary aid to the trapped victims.

A highway patrolman who aided in the rescue work gave a grim description of the tragedy.

"The bus driver was dead in his seat," said Trooper H. K. Wright "The man in back of him was dead and a woman back of him was alive, but trapped and suffering. Two more behind the woman were alive, but trapped."

Wright said it was nearly two hours before many of the living could be freed. They had to wait for a wrecker from Lexington to pull away the heavy steel that pinned them to their seats.

Baby Among Victims

The six fatalities were identified as bus driver Sherer S. Sutliff, 48, Roanoke, Va.; Kenneth G. Tyacke, 49, Washington, D.C.; Col. Milton Rogers, about 60, Lexington, believed to be a retired Army officer; Mrs. Ragina Marie Bell Jackson, 21, Scranton, Pa.; her 3-week-old son Edward Eugene Jackson, Jr., and her aunt, Mrs. Joe Jackson, 63, of Wytheville, Va.

Hospital authorities said that of the 32 injured, 16 were hospitalized and two were in critical condition. Sixteen others were treated and released, while two of the passengers of the ill-fated bus were unhurt.

The two persons critically injured were Nellie May Craft, an elderly woman, and Roy Phillips Jr. an 18-year-old Negro of Memphis.

Mother, Son Slightly Hurt In Accident

A Monongahela mother and her eight-year-old son were slightly injured shortly after midnight today when the brakes failed on the car the mother was driving as she was traveling north on Monessen Highway. The car crashed into a concrete block garage at 433 East Schoonmaker avenue before coming to a stop.

The mother, Mrs. Margaret Fagan, suffered a lacerated right knee, and the son, John, bruises and lacerations about the face.

The other Fagan children in the car, Susan, Louise, 6, and Pat, four months, apparantly escaped injury, according to Monessen police reports.

The garage belongs to John W. Culp, Sr. A car belonging to Sheridan Ross, of 436 East Schoonmaker avenue, which was parked in the garage, was damaged in the crash.

Lias Wants Ban at Wheeling Lifted

FAIRMONT, W. Va. (UP) — William (Big Bill) Lias has asked federal district court to lift a ban on a spring race meeting at Wheeling Downs and to take the track out of federal receivership.

An attorney for the track owner said Judge Harry Watkins was expected to set a date in the near future for arguments on the motions.

SIGHTS TO SEE IN CAPITAL

IN WASHINGTON for a Democratic advisory committee meeting, former President Truman (right) is greeted by a former administration aide, Gen. Harry Vaughan.

THE DEMOCRATIC candidate for President, Adlai Stevenson, draws a crowd as he takes a look-see at Congress' doings in Washington. Democrats and Republicans, too, applauded when he appeared in a Capitol visitors gallery. That's Pittsburgh's mayor David Lawrence at Stevenson's right.

Senate Votes to Keep Old Filibuster Rule

WASHINGTON (UP) — Senate civil rights advocates predicted today the new Congress will approve civil rights legislation despite the Senate's refusal to change its filibuster rule.

The Senate Friday night defeated 55-38 a bipartisan drive by northern senators to make it easier to limit Senate debate.

The defeat left a major roadblock in the path of President Eisenhower's civil rights program. Southern senators have repeatedly used unlimited debate to kill civil rights bills.

Predicts Speedy Approval

But despite the defeat, Senate GOP Leader William F. Knowland, who voted against the rules change drive, was in the van of senators predicting that the President's civil rights program will get speedy approval from the Senate Judiciary Committee and the House.

Under those conditions, he said, the President's program can be passed."

Driver Hurt in Two-Car Crash

The driver of one car was slightly injured in a two-car accident at the intersection of Eighth street and McKean avenue, Charleroi, last night about 10:45, Charleroi police reported today.

Injured was Robert L. Black, 27. Police listed his address as R. D. 1, Charleroi, while Charleroi-Monessen Hospital reports listed him as living at 562 Chestnut street, Monessen. He was treated for a bruised right knee at the hospital and released.

Police said Black was on his way to work at the Corning Glass Co. in Charleroi when he was involved in an accident with a car operated by Gordon Cooper, 16, of R. D. 2, Charleroi. Cooper, police stated, assumed responsibility.

UN to Renew Demands For Hungarian Visit

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (UP) —Renewed demands may be expected in the General Assembly for admission of a United Nations investigation team now that Communist Hungary has lifted the Iron Curtain for a U.N. relief and economic aid mission, sources said today.

Arrival of a four-man official U.N. mission in Budapest for on-the-spot consultations with Communist officials on relief and economic needs of the Hungarian people was disclosed here Friday night.

It is the first official U.N. group admitted to Hungary since the freedom revolt flared last October only to be crushed by Soviet armed might. The U.N. General Assembly called on Hungary to admit a U.N. team to investigate the uprising but has met with adamant refusal. The puppet Janos Kadar regime also rebuffed a proposal from U.N. Secretary General Dag Hammarskjold that Hammarskjold visit Budapest last December.

The relief mission is headed by Phillippe De Seynes, U.N. undersecretary in charge of Hungarian relief. His departure from U.N. headquarters in New York Monday was kept quiet at the request of the Hungarian regime.

The U.N. said the mission will remain in the Hungarian capital for "three or four days." It is expected to return to U.N. headquarters in about one week to report on its findings to Hammarskjold.

Hammarskjold is preparing a report to the assembly on all phases of the Hungarian question and it was expected the report may be released when the body reconvenes on Monday.

Actress Found Wandering by Trucker; Minus Two Teeth

INDIO, Calif. (UP) — Blonde actress Marie McDonald, minus two front teeth and suffering a black eye and other bruises, was found wandering and incoherent on a desert road here Friday night nearly 24 hours after she disappeared from her San Fernanado Valley home.

She hysterically claimed she was awakened and robbed of a 22-carat diamond ring by a Mexican and a Negro who held her blindfolded in a Los Angeles house.

Clad only in a housedress over a night dress against the chill of the winter desert night, she was taken to Coachella Valley Hospital here.

Attendants put her under sedation and said she was in no condition to answer until at least dawn the prize dilemma of the decade for Hollywood police:

Was she kidnaped or involved in an elaborate hoax that backfired?

Shoved From Car

The beauteous movie queen and former chorine of George White's "Scandals" bore lacerations in addition to the bruises and told Imperial County sheriffs deputies she was shoved out of an "old model, light - colored sedan with green upholstery."

She told officers she was driven from a house in Los Angeles to a point near Cactus City, about five miles east of Indio, where one of the men said: "'We have to get rid of her here because we are getting close to the border.'"

Then, she said, they knocked her out of the car and down a 25-foot embankment.

Her fingernails were broken.

"The men should have scratches on them," she told investigators. She said she was forced to leave her home with them "because they threatened my babies." She is the mother of three, two of them adopted and the last her own child, now four months old.

Marie McDonald

Took Diamond Ring

Miss McDonald claimed they took the diamond ring given to her by Murray Rosenberg, a wealthy admirer and New York City merchant. However, several days ago she told a Los Angeles Hollywood reporter she had sold the ring and turned the cash into securities.

A truck driver piloting a big tractor-trailer rig eastward toward Arizona on a transcontinental run for Western Truck Lines spotted a weaving figure on highway 60-70, the picturesque east-west highway crossing the arid west, and pulled to a halt shortly before midnight Friday night.

This was 140 miles from the palatial $65,000 home where she has lived with her three children since her divorce last July from multi-millionaire shoe store magnate Harry Karl, who settled a total of $1 million on her when she won the interlocutory decree.

Dr. Allan Fisher, attending physician at the hospital, said her condition was "good" and that she had only minor lacerations. He said her mental condition was "upset...and I can't tell you if she was under the influence of drugs."

The FBI, which has had agents at her home since early Friday and could have stepped in and taken over the case at midnight under federal law, announced at

Numbers Suspect Arrested Here

Sam Thomas, 48, of 119 Fourth street, was arrested by Monessen police yesterday afternoon on a charge of traffic in lottery, it was reported today.

According to Chief of Police Michael Kuvinka, Thomas had a quantity of numbers slips in his possession when arrested.

He was released after posting $1,000 bond. He was scheduled for a hearing before Alderman Manuel Monics at 3 p.m. today.

Less Hours, Same Pay Predicted by McDonald

NEW YORK (UP) — Working hours can be reduced without a reduction in workers' pay, according to David J. McDonald, president of the United Steelworkers of America.

McDonald told the closing session of a two-day regional conference of USW officials Friday that automation would reduce the number of jobs. But he said the growth of American technology "has been such that working hours can be reduced without a reduction in the workers' pay."

The USW head also predicted more leisure for the American worker in terms of shorter hours, shorter work weeks, or longer vacations.

Longer Vacations

McDonald said the steel industry could give its employes a three or four-month vacation every five years without prohibitive expenditure. He said this could be achieved currently by adding only 11 cents to each worker's hourly wage and hiring 2,000 more employes in the industry.

"The present work day could be reduced from eight to six hours at an additional cost of only 94 cents an hour per worker and the work week could be reduced from five to four days for only 70½ additional cents," he said

Regarding USW contract goals when its present three-year contract expires in 1959, he said the union's demands would be drawn up by the wage-policy committee on the basis of desires expressed by the rank-and-file members.

Five Main Points

The main point of McDonald's suggested contract goals were:

1. Extension of the pension plan to 450,000 workers. Pension payments to reflect an employe's total years of employment and to cover disability cases.

2. Extension of the insurance program to cover 250,000 workers. Payment of the entire cost of in-

Three Hoodlums Tie Up Owner of Service Station

Armed with a shotgun and rifle, three young hoodlums tied up the owner of the Hoffmann Service Station on Route 31 near West Newton about 9 o'clock last night and escaped with approximately $230 in cash. State Police reported today.

According to police, two of the men entered the station while the third stayed in the car as a lookout.

Approaching the owner, John Hoffman, the two men said they wanted to see some windshield wipers. Just as Hoffmann asked them what type, they lifted their weapons and ordered him to the rear of the station.

After they bound him, they rifled the cash register and fled in the waiting car.

Hoffmann was freed a short time later by an unidentified person.

The station is located three miles west of West Newton on Route 31.

Blonde 'Mati Hari' Enters Oil Map Case

PITTSBURGH (UP)—An attractive blonde "Mati Hari" in a blue station wagon added an intriguing note today to the thefts of valuable oil field maps from Gulf Oil Corp.

A warehouse employe said the "mystery woman" delivered maps for storage last February. The maps described locations of potential oil reserves worth millions of dollars.

The industrial espionage was revealed last month when FBI agents recovered quantities of maps pilfered from Gulf headquarters here and removed to a New York warehouse.

Four men including a Texas oil wildcatter who made and lost several fortunes, an alleged Houston, Tex., confidence man, a New York carpet company executive and his convict-brother were indicted on conspiracy charges.

The key man in the thefts, geologist Thomas W. B. Smith, was named as a co-conspirator but escaped indictment because he told how he stole the maps for a New York underworld ring.

Smith, a trusted Gulf employe for 25 years, was dismissed in January, 1956.

An employe of the Hoeveler Warehouse said a "tall, well-dressed blonde woman" driving a blue station wagon stored a heavy cardboard carton in the name of Edward Laszkewicz, a gasoline station operator. He said the woman was accompanied by a man who remained in the car.

The blonde returned a week later with another carton to be stored in the same name, the employe said.

Laszkewicz said he had "no idea" of the woman's identity. He said Smith, a customer, asked if he could store "furniture" under the gasoline station owner's name. But he said he did not know anything about maps.

Wants Forces to Stand Ready in The Middle East

WASHINGTON (UP) — President Eisenhower asked Congress today for authority to use American forces in the Middle East, if necessary, to defend the "territorial integrity and political independence" of any nation in the area against Communist armed aggression.

Mr. Eisenhower said it was his profound hope that such authority would never have to be used.

He proposed, too, that if this authority is granted, it would not be used except at the express desire of a nation under Communist attack.

Mr. Eisenhower made his request in person to a joint session of the new 85th Congress. Rarely, if ever before, has a president addressed a new Congress on a specific issue in advance of his State of the Union message—scheduled this year for next Thursday.

The President's Mideast message was carried on all three major U.S. radio-TV networks. The Voice of America arranged to broadcast it throughout the world.

Mr. Eisenhower submitted three basic recommendations:

1. Authority for the United States to cooperate with and assist any nation or group of nations in the general area of the Middle East in the development of economic strength dedicated to the maintenance of national independence.

2. Authority for him to undertake in the Middle East programs of military assistance and cooperation with any nations desiring such aid.

3. Authority for the use of American military force to protect nations of the Middle East "against overt armed aggression from any nation controlled by international Communism."

Asks No Money Now

Mr. Eisenhower asked no immediate money for the economic and military assistance phases of his program. He said presently appropriated funds should be adequate for the balance of this fiscal year, which ends June 30.

He said, however, that he would ask $200 million during each of fiscal years 1958 and 1959 for discretionary use in the Middle East. This two-year total of $400 million would be in addition to other mutual security programs.

The Democratic controlled Congress was expected eventually to approve the President's proposed program, but only after a long hard look.

The "Eisenhower doctrine" came under Communist attack hours before the President outlined it before the joint session of Congress.

The Chief Executive said in his special 3200-word message that the measures he recommended would have to be in agreement with present United States treaty obligations, including the United Nations charter.

This meant, he said, that any program now adopted would, in the event of armed attack in the Middle East, have to be subject to the overriding authority of the U.N. Security Council.

Mr. Eisenhower said the current instability in the Middle East and the differences between Israel and her Arab neighbors had been

Finleyville Man Killed in Crash Near Monongahela

A 72-year-old resident of near Finleyville was killed almost instantly early this morning when the car in which he was riding missed a turn and crashed against a tree near the Monongahela Valley Country Club on Route 88, State Police reported.

Dead on arrival at Monongahela Hospital at 3:30 this morning was Frank Fawcett, of R. D. 2, Finleyville. He died from a skull fracture.

According to police the victim was a passenger in a car operated by his nephew, Howard Clair Fawcett, 24, of R. D. 3, Finleyville.

The younger Fawcett, police said, failed to make a curve on the highway and lost control of the car. The machine ran off the road, went through a fence and came to a stop against a tree. The nephew was not injured

Police said the car also knocked down several road markers, including the Monongahela city limit sign.

Damage to the car was estimated at $1,400.

Red Skelton Saddened with News of Son

HOLLYWOOD (UP) — Heartbroken Red Skelton today thanked hundreds of persons who offered sympathy and prayers for the comedian's leukemia-stricken son, Richard, 9.

The saddened comic was in seclusion at his home where he and his wife, Georgia, awaited Richard's release from the UCLA Medical Center. His thanks was expressed through his agent.

"Red is beside himself and so broken up he can't talk," agent Milton Weiss said.

Doctors at the center gave young Skelton less than a year to live after tests made in the last few days disclosed that he was suffering from a fatal type of leukemia.

Faced with the verdict, Weiss said the comedian still refused to give up hope for the eventual recovery of his son. He quoted Skelton as saying, "I'll never give up hope."

Britain Facing Oil Shortage, Rationing

LONDON (UP) — Britain faced a mounting oil shortage today, and experts predicted fuel rationing will continue throughout the year.

British newspapers placed much of the blame for the nation's predicament on small oil companies in the United States.

The government of Prime Minister Sir Anthony Eden took steps to conserve available supplies. Gasoline rationing, introduced as a "temporary" measure when the Suez crisis cut off supplies coming to Britain through the Suez Canal, took on some aspects of permanency.

Government leaders mapped plans for still tighter restrictions on gasoline and oil consumption in an effort to make ends meet. Prices of all oil products were expected to rise to meet increased shipping costs, and there were new predictions of a further cut in the program which has limited industrial consumption of fuel oil to about 90 per cent of normal.

Minister of Transport Harold Watkinson conferred Friday with representatives of the nationalized trucking industry and independent operators. Informed sources said he told them trucking lines have not conformed with government instructions for saving fuel.

The fuel shortage took a deeper cut in the British automobile industry, which has been shaky since a rash of strikes over reduced working hours last year. The Ford plant at Dagenham, east of London, laid off 1,000 employes Friday, and another 1,000 at the Singer Company's Coventry plant were put on a three-day work week because of the slump in car sales caused by gasoline rationing.

Several British newspapers accused the United States of choking supplies of American crude oil to Britain to suit American interests.

Texas oil companies came in for particular criticism for apparent unwillingness to step up supplies of crude oil to Europe.

Rats Are Just Not Willing to Be Cooperative

WOODBRIDGE, N.J. (UP)—It is not asking too much of a rat to take a fast trip through a 730-foot pipe. But on seven occasions such journeys have ended in failure here.

Finally, Friday, electrician Louis Salamon hit upon a sure-fire system.

Salamon, other electricians and firemen are trying to get string through the four-inch pipe under the New Jersey Turnpike in order to extend wires for a fire alarm system to a new housing development.

A job for a rat, they thought, and one was rounded up for the task. But it chewed off the string and scampered to freedom. The second was halfway through the pipe when it quit. And a third raced through so fast that the string scraped along the pipe and became parted. Four other rats also fell down on the job.

To the latest candidate's tail Salamon fastened string with tape, put a small miner's lamp on its head and wrapped on a splint to keep the rodent from turning around. Sure-fire? Sure thing.

Whereupon the rat fell dead, apparently of fright.

The Bennetts live here. That's Grandmother Bennett's Bible on the window sill, and the whole family goes to the church across the snow covered field.

John Bennett works in the local bank. Martha, his wife, is president of the PTA, and they have three lovely children. Grandmother Bennett has been living with them for the past couple of years, since she broke her hip. She can't always get to church in wintertime and that's why she calls this her window. When she can't be in church, it helps to be able to see it.

To her, the church steeple represents a great many things, and brings back many memories. Her son was married in that church. Her husband was buried from it. Her grandchildren were christened in it.

The Church has helped her to bear grief, in hours of sorrow; and it has seemed to put a benediction upon her happiness, in times of joy. Most important of all, whatever the occasion, whatever the crisis . . . the Church has always been there.

To Grandmother Bennett, the most comforting thing in the world is knowing that it always will be there.

THE CHURCH FOR ALL . . . ALL FOR THE CHURCH

The Church is the greatest factor on earth for the building of character and good citizenship. It is a storehouse of spiritual values. Without a strong Church, neither democracy nor civilization can survive. There are four sound reasons why every person should attend services regularly and support the Church. They are: (1) For his own sake. (2) For his children's sake. (3) For the sake of his community and nation. (4) For the sake of the Church itself, which needs his moral and material support. Plan to go to church regularly and read your Bible daily.

Assembly Will Meet Monday

To Assign Standing Committees

HARRISBURG (UP)—The 1957 General Assembly settles down for its first full day of business Monday afternoon with the naming of standing committees expected to top the agenda in both chambers.

The Senate reconvenes at 4 p.m. and the House 30 minutes later.

The assembly met in joint session Jan. 1 to hear Gov. George M. Leader's "State of the Commonwealth" message and then immediately adjourned. The lawmakers are expected to hold a short two-day session and not return until after the state Farm Show here.

Few changes are expected in the 22 Senate committee chairmanships where the Republicans held their majority from the last session. Senate President Pro Tempore M. Harvey Taylor is expected to leave most incumbents in office, reshuffling only vacancies caused by death or retirement.

A scramble for leadership of the 34 standing House committees could develop as the Democrats are shunted to the background and the 126 member GOP majority takes over

The administration will be paying particular attention to the House Ways and Means tax-writing committee and the Appropriations Committee which are considered among the more important.

As all revenue measures must originate in the House, Leader's proposed budget could well stand or fall in these two committees.

The Republican majorities have served notice they will "hold the line" against any new tax notions the administration may propose. The GOP has indicated it favored retention of the present 3 per cent sales tax, but greeted a $250,000,000 tax package recommended by a bipartisan study committee with mixed emotions. The package urged the retention of the present sales tax, but suggested slicing off many of the present exemptions and adding a soft drink and on-premises liquor tax.

An immediate problem the two chambers have to settle is a compromise date for reconvening after the Farm Show. House members want to return on Jan. 22, the day following President Eisenhower's inauguration, but he senators want to wait until Jan 28

Konrad Adenauer Celebrates His 81st Birthday

BONN, Germany (UP) — Chancellor Konrad Adenauer celebrated his 81st birthday today, apparently without thought of quitting or even scouting for a possible successor.

Der Alte (the old man), as he is known to all Germans, was scheduled to stand in the cabinet room of the Chancellory for five hours to shake hands and receive congratulations from well - wishers, ranging from his kitchen staff to world political leaders.

Konrad Adenauer

Gifts included such items as a huge selection of sausages and other products of the German meat industry, presented by Food Minister Heinrich Luebke.

West Germany's iron - willed "grand old man," still firm, erect and imperious, looked little more than 65. Aides said he has never been in better health.

The aides also said Adenauer intends to lead his Christian Democrat Party (CDU) in the critical general elections in September. The elections are expected to be a showdown test of the chancellor's policies of rearmament and close alliance with the West.

But the question remaining in the back of many minds was left unanswered: Who will succeed the aged leader when he is forced to step down?

As far as Adenauer himself is concerned, the answer appeared to be that he has no thought of giving up, and that he believes there is no hurry about looking for a successor.

Wanted Preview Of Tree Burning

PITTSBURGH (UP) — Police looked today for a pyromaniac who attempted to jump the gun and make it Tenth Night instead of Twelfth Night.

The culprit attempted to set fire Friday night to 3,000 Christmas trees stacked in Schenley Plaza by the Oakland Chamber of Commerce for Twelfth Night ceremonies Sunday.

The chamber said the ceremonies will begin as scheduled Sunday at 7:30 p.m.

BUS RULING ANTI' — Federal Judge Emmet C. Choate, who declared Miami's segregation law unconstitutional when he freed four Negro women charged with riding in the "white zone" of a bus, is shown in his Miami, Fla., office. He based his decision on the U. S. Supreme Court ruling in the Montgomery, Ala., case.

Troop

"heightened" and, at times, "manipulated" by international Communism.

He said the Soviet Union had nothing to fear from the United States in the Middle East, but that Russian rulers had long sought to dominate that area.

"The reason for Russia's interest in the Middle East is solely that of power politics," he said. "Considering her announced purpose of communizing the world it is easy to understand her hope of dominating the Middle East."

Mr. Eisenhower said he would deal with the international situation generally in his Jan. 10 State of the Union message.

He said, however, that he felt the special situation in the Middle East had reached a new and critical stage which required his immediate presentation of the matter to the House and Senate.

He said he deemed the matter to be of "grave importance to our country"

Reassures Congress

Mr. Eisenhower said that if Congress gives him the stand-by military authority, he will maintain hour-by-hour contact with the House and Senate—should military application of the new policy become necessary.

He added that if grave implications arose in the Middle East at a time when Congress was not in session, he would call Congress into special session immediately.

Furthermore, he said, he intended promptly to send a special mission to the Middle East to explain the cooperation this country is prepared to extend.

This move apparently is designed to offset Communist propaganda blasts charging that the "Eisenhower doctrine" is a "vicious colonialist offensive against the people of the Middle East."

Mr. Eisenhower said his proposed policy for the Middle East undoubtedly involved "risk" as well as certain burdens for the United States because the Communists, who covet the Middle East, will not like the American proposal.

Mr. Eisenhower, however, said "nothing is more necessary to assure this (prevention of aggression) than that our policy with respect to the defense of the area be promptly and clearly determined and declared."

"Thus the United Nations and all friendly governments, and indeed governments which are not friendly, will know where we stand," he said.

Power Hungry Communists

Mr. Eisenhower said one of the greatest dangers in the current situation is that "power hungry Communists" might falsely or correctly estimate that the Middle East is defended inadequately. This might tempt them to use overt armed attack.

The President said he feared that if this happens it would "start a chain of circumstances which would almost surely involve the United States in military action."

"I am convinced that the best insurance against this dangerous contingency is to make clear now our readiness to cooperate fully and freely wit hour friends of the Middle East in ways consonant with the purposes and principles of the United Nations."

Mr. Eisenhower's recommendations were made against the background of what he called "the simple and indisputable facts:

"1. The Middle East, which has always been coveted by Russia, would today be prized more than ever by international Communism.

"2. The Soviet rulers continue to show that they do not scruple to use any means to gain their ends.

"3. The free nations of the Mideast need, and for the most part want, added strength to assure their continued independence."

While Mr. Eisenhower was highly laudatory of the United Nations, he said the veto power of Russia in the U.N. Security Council always posed a danger.

State Truckers Group Wants Safety Checks

HARRISBURG (UP)—The Pennsylvania Motor Truck Association has lined up with Gov. George M. Leader in his request that the Federal Interstate Commerce Commission crackdown on out-of-state truckers violating ICC safety regulations in Pennsylvania.

An association spokesman said the agency "heartily" endorsed the governor's request pointing out that the PMTA had cooperatee with the ICC in the development of better braking and other safety regulations.

Leader told the ICC that a spot check made last November showed that out-of-state haulers "flagrantly disregard ICC safety regulations."

The survey was made by state highway safety organizations, the PMTA's safety supervisors council and federal agencies.

The governor also asked the Pennsylvania congressional delegation to urge the ICC to put additional enforcement officers in the state. Leader wrote the delegates to use their influence "to prevail upon the ICC to provide more adequate and stringent enforcement of their regulations."

The letter cited two serious accidents in the state involving brake failures on out-of-state haulers which resulted in the severe injury to passengers in automobiles and the death of one truck driver.

Leader said that on Nov. 30 brake failure caused a trailer-truck to run out of control in Philadelphia. The vehicle overturned on an auto, injuring its occupants.

A truck driver was killed on Dec. 15 near Ridgeway when a Michigan registered tractor-trailer careened out of control on a mountain road leading into the city and crashed into a private home. The truck and the home of Samuel Murphy burst into flames. The driver, trapped in his vehicle, was burned to death but occupants of the building narrowly escaped.

The PMTA said it had repeatedly urged better enforcement of the ICC safety regulations and that the majority of truck users would welcome strict enforcement.

"The vast majority of responsible truck users give driver training, highway safety and courtesy top priority in their operations, but even the best welcome the added stimulus of strict enforcement, if only to bring the less conscientious operators into line for greater safety of all highway users," the trucking organization said.

Dent Softens Original Attacks

HARRISBURG (UP)—Sen. John H. Dent, Democratic Senate floor leader, has softened his original attacks on Gov. George M. Leader's proposal for extension of civil service to state employes.

Apparently smarting from criticism of his remarks that extension of civil service would destroy partisan politics which, in turn, "would destroy democratic government as we know it," Dent said today that he "never opposed meritorious security, nor technical or professional employes." Leader had proposed extending civil service to the latter two categories in his message to the Legislature.

Dent also pointed out that Democratic members of the Senate and House supported legislation to put such employes under civil service during the 1955 session but that the move was defeated in the Republican-controlled Senate.

rights bills said: "I predict that we will have civil rights legislation in the 85th Congress."

Sen. Everett Dirksen (R-ILL) disclosed Friday that he is already seeking co-sponsors on a group of bills apparently designed to carry out Mr. Eisenhower's program. Knowland said he expects the measures to be offered Monday.

One knowledgeable strategist for southern Democrats, who declined the use of his name, conceded that it will be hard to stop proposals like those sent to Congress by the President and approved by the House last year.

Mr. Eisenhower and his legislative lieutenants, at their pre-session strategy huddles this week, agreed to make an all-out push for the program. It would guarantee voting rights and other civil rights of minorities, establish a special civil rights commission and create a special civil rights division in the Justice Department.

Western-style Parliament May Be Offered Hungarians

VIENNA (UP) — Hungary's puppet Communist regime today held out the prospect of a Western-style parliament in another attempt to end resistance and win support in the struggle to put the stricken nation back on its economic feet.

A four-man United Nations mission was in Budapest for consultations with Communist officials on the relief and economic needs of the rebellion - devastated nation The Communist Hungarians frankly admitted foreign help would be a major factor in restoring the national economy.

Soviet - imposed Premier Janos Kadar, in his desperate attempts to win support, has promised Hungarian widesweeping political and economic reform. But his promises have fallen on deaf ears. Resistance still continues, both actively and passively.

Fighting Continues

Government-controlled Budapest newspapers admitted Hungarian partisan bands are still active in outlying provinces. Private reports from Budapest told of the arrival there for repairs of bullet-riddled automobiles and trucks.

The Hungarian trade union newspaper Nep Akarat reported small groups of armed partisans "caused disturbances" in Transdanubia. It said "a vile gang" was rendered harmless in recent weeks in Bakonybel but "now a further group has appeared."

Hungarian police, it reported, experienced a "rather hectic day at Varpalota, where they collected a great number of arms at a mine entrance shaft." The arms included sub machine guns.

Promises New Parliament

Another band, calling itself the 'Maleter group," in honor of Maj Gen. Pal Maleter, who commanded the freedom fighters in Budapest during the October uprising is active around Petfurda, the newspaper said.

The promise of a Western-style parliament was made in the Budapest afternoon newspaper Esti Hirlap. It said the existing national assembly was going "to re-shape democracy in public life."

The deputies, it said, would be able to "ask questions of the government in parliament and should discuss worries, grievances and problems of their constituents before the whole country."

Airliner Forced Down by Fire

WILLIAMSPORT, Pa. (UP) — A four-engine Capital Airlines Viscount with 18 passengers aboard was forced to land here Friday when fire broke out in the forward luggage compartment while the plane was flying at 16,000 feet enroute to Pittsburgh from New York.

Pilot Mel Towle brought the big aircraft to a smooth landing with no injuries to passengers or the crew of four. He radioed the Williamsport Airport for emergency landing clearance when the blaze sent smoke into the passenger compartment. Airport firemen were on hand when the plane touched down.

Towle said the fire was caused by an overheated invertor, which is part of the plane's power system The blaze was put out immediately.

Our Policy for The Middle East

PRESIDENT Eisenhower's personal appearance before the new Congress today emphasizes the importance which he and his advisers attach to the Middle East crisis and the measures which he is recommending to meet that crisis.

Ordinarily the President does not personally address a new session of Congress before he makes the traditional State of the Union report. But that has been deferred until next week so that Mr. Eisenhower can have immediate attention for his proposals about the Middle East.

Although the Washington dispatches agree that Congress will adopt the kind of resolution the President is requesting, they also report that many members, Republicans as well as Democrats, have some doubts as to the need for such a declaration and as to whether it will have the effect desired.

These doubts seem to us to be warranted. We realize that essentially what Mr. Eisenhower is suggesting is to extend the so-called Truman Doctrine, which covered only Greece and Turkey, to cover the entire Middle East. And since the Truman Doctrine was effective in saving Greece from Communist absorption (Turkey was not in equal danger), the assumption seems to be that an Eisenhower Doctrine will serve as well for the rest of the Eastern Mediterranean area.

It could well do so, but it would be wrong, we think, to regard this as automatic and to assume that, because we have extended our protection to the Middle East that this will guarantee that Russia keeps out and that the Middle Eastern countries want us for a protector.

* * *

WALTER LIPPMANN makes the point in his article on this page that American policy in the Middle East should not be based on a supposition that, because the British have lost their influence and power, there exists a "vacuum" which somebody is going to fill and that the somebody should be ourselves rather than the Russians.

Anyone who understands anything about the current ferment in the Arab world knows that a policy of this kind can get nowhere. If there is a "vacuum" in the Middle East, the Arabs think the people who are living there are the ones who should fill it. And what American will say that this is wrong?

What we hope the Eisenhower doctrine turns out to be is a policy designed to do a lot more than just keep the Communists out of the Middle East as they were kept out of Greece. We hope it becomes a plan for encouraging responsible independence on the part of the Middle Eastern states.

This is a very large order, of course, and one of the steps in filling it surely will have to be the prevention of Russian expansion, military or other, in the area. But if we allow the people of the Middle East to think that this is the sum of our objectives, our policy is lost from the start and we will become, in their eyes, just another supercilious big power practicing a modern form of colonialism.

Case not Yet Closed

THE LAST GROUP of political crooks who were featured in the Westmoreland County election fraud cases in 1952 and 1953 have now received their punishment. U. S. District Judge Joseph P. Willson has sent two New Kensington defendants, Frank (Frinkie) Phillips, a well known racketeer, and Mike Sicillia to prison, Phillips for a year and a day and Sicillia for six months. A third, John Fontana, was given a suspended sentence and a fine of $1,500.

The sentencing of these characters brings to a conclusion the series of prosecutions which arose out of wholesale frauds at several polling places in Monessen and New Kensington.

It should not, however, erase the matter from the minds of the voters. For in every single instance, it was demonstrated in court that this cheating, some of it brazen and crude beyond imagination, was designed to benefit the candidates of the Democratic courthouse political machine. And it is too much to ask an intelligent public to believe that the inspiration and direction of this vicious activity did not stem from some central headquarters.

Now that the law has dealt with actual perpetrators of the fraud, it seems to us that the people themselves may want to deal with some of those responsible for creating the political climate in which such things could take place. The election cheating, now a matter of proven record, deserves to be a central issue in the Westmoreland County elections this year.

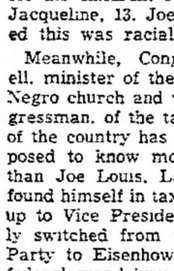
Ike to Stress Ties to France And Britain

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON — First drafts of President Eisenhower's proposed State of The Union speech, scheduled Jan. 10, have already been returned to the White House by cabinet officers with their comments.



Mr. Pearson

As it now stands, the speech will be devoted primarily to foreign policy. Ike will issue a strong reminder that our traditional British-French allies are our true friends. He will also mention American sympathy for people everywhere who wish to be free. He will call for a big foreign aid program.

On domestic issues, Ike will call for mild reforms in farm legislation, civil rights, the Taft-Hartley law and social security. He will also speak hopefully of America's prospects for continued peace and prosperity.

Two Negro Tax Cases

It's interesting to scrutinize the treatment two prominent Negroes, Joe Louis and Congressman Adam Clayton Powell, are getting on their taxes and how they are taking it.

Joe Louis, the ex-heavyweight boxing champion, owes Uncle Sam $1,119,437 in taxes on the big money he once made in the ring. At that time money came easy, Joe didn't realize how high his bracket was, and didn't lay it away for the tax collector. He never fudged on his taxes. But he did get behind in payments, and at the rate of six per cent on back payments this can run into money.

Lately Joe has gone into wrestling to try to pay up; in the last three months has paid $124,000. However, the Treasury recently attached a $65,000 trust fund left for his children, Joe, Jr., 9, and Jacqueline, 13. Joe has not claimed this was racial discrimination.

Meanwhile, Congressman Powell, minister of the largest Baptist Negro church and voter, as a Congressman, of the tax laws the rest of the country has to obey, is supposed to know more about taxes than Joe Louis. Last summer he found himself in tax trouble, shined up to Vice President Nixon, finally switched from the Democratic Party to Eisenhower. However, a federal grand jury in New York is still considering his case.

Powell claims this is racial discrimination. Friends of his in the Brotherhood of Sleeping Car Porters have protested on his behalf.

Two of Powell's secretaries have been convicted in connection with paying salary kickbacks; one secretary has been indicted.

Possible Rent Gimmick

Meanwhile, the grand jury has been digging into additional information supplied by an ex-member of Powell's staff that he paid his rent while in Washington by putting his landlord on the government payroll. His landlord was Belford Lawson, Jr.

This column checked into the charge and found that Lawson had been on Congressman Powell's payroll for $77 a month from January to June 1945. These are the months that Congress was in session, and $77 a month is not far off from the amount one would pay for the rent of a room in a private home.

The records of the House of Representatives also showed that Lawson was on Powell's payroll for $88 a month from January to March 1946.

This is money, of course, which is paid by all the taxpayers to a congressman for his staff to help his constituents. It is not supposed to be paid for rent, or food, or the personal expenses of a congressman.

When Lawson was queried about this, he admitted Congressman Powell had rented a room from him for $60 a month and admitted he had been on the payroll. He vigorously denied, however, there was any connection between the two.

"I was put on the payroll," he claimed, "for advising Powell on civil rights."

"Why were you taken off the payroll just as Powell ceased to live in your home and then came back on the payroll next year?" Lawson was asked.

"I continued to give him free advice," Lawson explained, "then quit altogether when my advice wasn't taken."

"Isn't the $60 you say that Powell paid for rent very close to the $77 you received as a member of his staff?"

"That's only a coincidence," Lawson replied.

"Powell kept the apartment beyond the time he had me on the payroll," Lawson added.

"How long?"

Mr. Lawson couldn't quite remember. He said he thought that Powell probably had paid his rent by check, but when asked if he had tried to get hold of the checks, Lawson finally said he wasn't sure whether Powell had paid by check or in cash.

Today and Tomorrow—

Middle Eastern Realities

By WALTER LIPPMANN

It would be a mistake, I think, to shape our policy in a way which forces, or appears to force, the Middle Eastern countries to make a public and definite choice, as to who will be their protector, between the Soviet Union and ourselves. It will be tactless and it will be unwise to do this. The natural line of their policy is to avoid being aligned irrevocably with either side, and then to play one side against the other, to profit by the competition of the great powers for their favor. Any declaration of policy that we make ought to take full account of all this.

Mr. Lippmann

As a matter of fact, the very best we can now hope for in the Middle East is that the Arab countries will remain unaligned and in a middle position. It is, therefore, not only misleading but almost certainly mischievous to keep saying that with the collapse of the British authority in the Middle East, there is a "vacuum of power," which the United States must fill.

Whatever else the United States can do, it certainly cannot play the role that Britain used to play. Britain was once not only the paramount military power. It was also the controlling power in Egypt, and in most of the Arab states. Not only has Britain ceased to play that role. The role itself no longer exists for anyone to play.

Two Conceptions

In thinking about the Middle East, there are two general conceptions, one of which we must choose. The first is to think of the Middle East as the stake in the great conflict between the Soviet Union and the United States. If that is the way we approach the problem, whatever we offer the Arab states as military protection or economic assistance will carry with it the implication that they must make their choice between Moscow and Washington.

The other way to think about the Arab countries is in terms of a balance of power within which they remain independent and unaligned. This is the approach which best reflects the realities of the military situation in the Middle East, and the true national interests of the Arab states.

If we look quite realistically at the military situation of the United States and of the U. S. S. R. in the Middle East, must we not conclude that there exists a stalemate in which both of us are deterred from intervening with our own military forces? The warning against Soviet intervention, which Congress is to be asked to give, puts into words one side of this mutual deterrence. The other side of it is that we, too, are deterred from intervening with our own forces. For we have to assume that the Soviet Union would react to such an intervention.

Stalemate Exists

Because the stalemate prevents overt intervention, the field is wide open to propaganda, subversion, bribery and intrigue. When the British and French tried to intervene they found the U. S. A. and the U. S. S. R. aligned against them. Underneath all the moral and political reasons avowed for this alignment, there was at the bottom the Soviet-American deadlock which neither dares to see broken.

There are then these two factors to be kept in mind. One is that the natural line of the Arab states is towards neutrality, and that this should be respected and encouraged. A second factor is that the Soviet Union and the United States are mutually deterred from overt intervention. A third is that in this condition of affairs, the Middle East is highly unstable. For there is no authority outside the region, and none within the region, which can establish and maintain order.

We cannot, therefore, rule out the possibility that some time the disorder will be such that it is recognized as a menace to the peace of the world. If so, the time may come when we shall have to have some talks with the Russians about the possibility of arranging a stabilization by neutralization in the Middle East.

Nationalistic Groups Drain Civic Energy

By HARRY R. PORE, Jr.

It is not a new or, with some folks, a very popular idea that in many American communities we have too many organizations dedicated to the perpetuation of nationalistic heritages.

Naturally enough, we find this condition most prevalent in communities whose populations include comparatively large numbers of people who themselves or whose recent ancestors came to this country from other lands. Monessen is such a community. So are most of the other towns of the Monongahela Valley.

I have not counted them recently, but there must be about 20 nationalistic organizations in Monessen. And while they are all, so far as I know, thoroughly patriotic, it has always seemed to me that they drain off a great deal of civic energy, leadership, and money which could be mustered for community purposes.

There was much to be said for such organizations in the early days of the great immigration from Europe. In fact, they were necessary to provide the guidance and companionship required if these people were to make good adjustments in their new circumstances. The language problem alone was enough to bring such organizations into existence and keep them alive.

Adjustments Made

But most of this happened over a generation ago. By now the adjustments have been made if they are ever going to be made. Certainly they ought to have been made by the children and grandchildren of the original immigrants.

I am always a little nonplussed when I read in the paper that some friend or acquaintance who was in the public schools of Monessen with me 30 years ago has been elected to an office in some nationalistic society.

That fellow, I say to myself, is no Slav or Italian or Pole or Frenchman — he's an American. The chances are good that he's never been in Europe and doesn't intend to go. It's doubtful if he speaks anything but English.

Yet he must be spending a lot of his time in an enterprise whose orientation is outside the United States.

Putting myself in the other fellow's place, I'm sure that if I decided to move to France, one of the first things I would do would be to join an American club. I undoubtedly would continue to celebrate the Fourth of July and I would rear my children to be proud that their father had been an American.

But if after two or three generations my offspring were still building their social and political lives around the American club, I think I'd begin to wonder whether as a family we had made the best possible adjustment to France.

Church Divisions

There is another aspect of this which needs to be mentioned although I hesitate for fear of being misunderstood. And that is the practice of continuing to divide church denominations on nationalistic lines long after the language barrier, or most of it, has been surmounted. Here again, it seems to me, we are producing an unnecessary dilution of energies.

I have the highest respect for our American "melting pot" tradition as expressed by "E pluribus unum" — from many, one. I'm sure much of America's strength and many of her unique virtues are due to the fusion and combination of the differing heritages of our people.

Moreover, I would be the last to suggest that any of us should allow his children to forget whence his ancestors came. And if we can pass on the language of the family, so much the better.

But having said this, I venture to raise a question as to whether, by refusing to be fully melted in the melting pot, we do full justice to our country, to our communities and to ourselves. And to get down to our own case, it's my opinion for whatever it is worth that Monessen would be a stronger and better community in many ways if the energies required to perpetuate some 20 organizations, purely nationalistic in concept, could be channeled into civic activities.

If somebody has a different opinion or just would like to say something on the subject, I yield the floor

Invitation to a Year Of Thrills Outdoors

By JOHN H. DAY

The juggernaut of time comes crunching down the calendar. The countryman suddenly discovers that a newly minted January has stepped across the threshold of the House of Days. Out ahead stretch 12 inviting months — a whole new year of delightful ramblings in wood and field, by streamside and wayside. Beyond tomorrow's mystic gates lie thrilling new discoveries, fine print in the book of the outdoors. There is news in every bush. Expectation is ever on tiptoe.

Like two-faced Janus of the ancient Roman doorways, the countryman stands at the year's turning, torn between eagerness for the plunge into new explorations, and a nostalgic backward look into the golden memories of the year just closed, with its many joyous intervals of wayside wonder. These things are the lodestar which pulls the addicted countryman again and again into hiking boots and woods clothes, draws him far from the beaten paths, and keeps him ever in bemused bondage.

Usually with the turning year will come a snowfall to sort of cap and complete the 12-month package of outdoor delights. In one short day the too-familiar world is mysteriously carpeted in white. The tired mind is waked by the clean sharp scent of snow, the sudden bracing wind, the quickened stars, the dazzling, eerie sheen of moon-touched whiteness. The snowflakes' humming lisp becomes a small music.

'Dangerous' Habit

There is no cure for the outdoors addiction of confirmed countrymen. Once he has taken up the "habit" the neophyte is lost. Let him take the first step in botany or ornithology, procure one new specimen, and he is ticketed for the whole voyage. There is a fascination about it quite overpowering. Who knows what is hid under the open sky? While blackberrying or driving his cow to pasture he may make some new discovery.

Unlike the jaded townsman, the countryman cannot bankrupt his opportunities, nor providences nor knowledge nor joy. Nothing of the world of Nature perishes. Nature is a book whose best pages are as yet uncut. He devotes a growing interest to the reading of this fine print, filling his mind with outdoor lore, his soul with enduring peace and his body with renewed vigor.

There is neither beginning nor end to the beauty of the land as the year turns. There is the quiet majesty of the broad farming valley after a night of snow. There is the nobility of hemlock-skirted mountains white and regal against a winter sky. There is neither shape nor size to the beauty of the land. It may be the flaming horizon, a frost-rimmed brooklet, or a rabbit track beneath the thorn bush.

A winter cloud no bigger than a button, drifting along the broad highways of the sky, can change the personality of the land. Every subtle change in time and weather is reflected in the moody land. And at night, when the hounds of wind go hunting in the heavens, no man knows what the prey or where it takes its flight. The countryman uncovers one ear to hear the cold flurry of dry leaves, or the sudden burst of snow along the eaves, and hastily turns over to dream again of April days.

Dramatic Events

There are always exciting things going on along the enchanted byways of the countryside. The eternal struggle for existence affords some dramatic episodes for the rambler who knows how to see them. As Thoreau says, if one would find arrowheads, he must keep his mind stocked with arrowheads. The fortunate man who has learned the priceless art of seeing things knows well that there is much more to the natural scene than the parade of the seasons and the march of time in the timberlands.

And so, at the turn of the year, the countryman extends cordial invitation to all who would warm their hands and hearts at the eternal flame to go rambling with him down the enchanted byways of the new year. The only cost is some old clothes and a seeking heart. One thing must be kept in mind, and that is that the journey to Nature is a journey from which there is no returning.

"I'm going out to clean the pasture spring —
I'll only stop to rake the leaves away,
And stay to watch the water clear, I may —
I shan't be gone long. You come too."

ON THE BALL

Smith Plans to Leave Greensburg

Harold Smith, popular Greensburg High basketball coach, has decided to turn in his portfolio this June. "Smitty", one of the WPIAL's most successful mentors, has entered the motel business in Miami, Fla. His newly-acquired business is only 20 blocks from the Orange Bowl. Right now his wife is operating the motel . . . Incidentally Smith has been at Greensburg for 14 years. He took over as head man in 1943 and has turned out top flight teams ever since . . . Chuck Drazenovich, a Brownsville product, was named recently as the "most valuable" player with the Washington Redskins professional football team the past season. Sportswriters covering the Skins made the selection.

* * *

The year 1956 will have to go down as one of the best in Monessen High sports in history. In all, Monessen teams won 79 contests, while losing just 34 . . . Actually there was just one undefeated record turned in by the Greyhounds. The volleyball team romped to eight straight victories while winning the state championship . . . Here are other 1956 records: baseball, 5-4; varsity basketball, 22-4; junior varsity basketball, 16-6; junior high basketball, 11-7; varsity football, 8-2; junior varsity football, 3-1; junior high football, 3-2; tennis, 2-4; and track, 1-4.

MHS Principal Scolds Grid Scout

A football scout for a southern school ran into a good scolding from Monessen High principal Henry Furio the other day. It seems the "bird dog" represented a university which gave a Monessen boy a "bad deal." Reasons Furio: "We school officials feel we have an obligation to protect our students i nthis matter of scholarships, particularly athletic scholarships. If they are not to be honored, then we don't want our youngsters fooled by fast-talking scouts." . . . Incidentally, the school in question has already sent a letter of explanation to Furio, apologizing for the incident and blaming everything on a "misunderstanding." . . . Apparently it doesn't do any harm to raise your voice once in a while.

* * *

Here's a long-range tip: Don't be surprised if Ford City winds up winning the WPIAL basketball title this season. The Glassers have speed and nerve. They should hit their peak by tournament time . . . Billy Reynolds, ex of Pitt and the Cleveland Browns, has been voted "the outstanding player" of the 1956 Armed Forces Press Service All-Star football team. Reynolds scored 102 points for Bolling Air Force Base the past season . . .Hot Rod Hundley is averaging 19.1 points per game this year with the West Virginia cagers. Lloyd Sharrar, the towering fellow from Meadville, has a 16.4 average.

Harry Wright Resigns at Georgia

Harry Wright, the former Notre Dame All-American who proved so popular at Big Six banquets in the past, has resigned as an aide to Wally Butts at Georgia. There was some talk that he might join the Notre Dame staff next season. Not, so, says an informer who points out that Wright is strictly a Frank Leahy man. And the old master of the Irish hardly endeared himself to school officials with his recent intemperate (but painfully accurate) remarks . . . Tom Stefl, a California product, figures to win a starting tackle job at the University of Maryland next season. He saw considerable duty with the Terps in '56.

Rostraver Captures Opener

Leps Take Dunbar by 66 to 41

Rostraver High basketballers bolted off to a 25-6 lead in the first period, then coasted to an easy 66-41 triumph over visiting Dunbar last night.

The win tipped off Section 10 action for Coach George Everett's Leps.

Reginald Haten paced the winners with 16 points. Dick Shaffer chipped in with 15 and Richard Cloherty added 14.

After the big first period, the Leps hardly worked up a sweat.

Lesko Top Scorer

For Dunbar, Lesko was high with 15 points.

Unhappily, the Rostraver Jayvees were not as successful. They lost their ninth straight game, bowing to the Dunbar Reserves, 45-39.

RECOVERS FUMBLE — Monessen's John Bogovich is pictured recovering a loose ball in one of the wild "scrimmages" during last night's game with Brownsville at the MHS gym. Diving too late for possession is Bob Hanula, of Brownsville. Also pictured are Frank Crisi (34) and Maurice Mathieu (10) of Monessen and Grover Ferguson (14) and Bernie Hovan (15) of Brownsville. Monessen won the game 56-40.

Hounds Cut Loose In Final Period For Sec. 5 Win

Coach Frank Janosik's Monessen High basketballers successfully passed their first Section 5 test of the season last night, but they had to work up a sweat to do it.

The Hounds cut loose in the final period to turn back determined Brownsville, 56-40, before 1737 fans who turned out at the MHS gym for the league opener.

The win was the 35th straight in section play for Monessen over the past four seasons.

Actually the game was much closer than the final score indicates. For three periods the hustling visitors stayed within striking distance of the Hounds.

At the outset of the final period, Brownsville trailed by only six points. However at that stage the Brownies muffed a couple of easy chances which would have sliced the gap even further.

Start Rolling

Eventually Monessen's two "outside men" — Maurice Mathieu and John Bogovich — got rolling to insure the victory. Up to the final period, neither had played up to par.

Between them, Bogovich and Mathieu accounted for 12 points in the closing stanza and that spree smashed the invaders hopes.

Carl Crawley, 6-0 center, paced the Hounds with 14 points. Frank Crisi, 6-0 sharpshooter, checked in with 12 points, the same number as Bogovich and Mathieu.

For the visitors, Bob Chuey, 6-2 junior, tossed in 16 points. Chuey, who has been averaging 23 points per game this season, has never scored less than 16 in any assignment.

Fight Gamely

Coach Alex Barantovich's Brownies fought gamely all the way even though Monessen led from start to finish. As late as the third period, the visitors were within four points of tying the score.

With the count, 40-34, in the opening minutes of the fourth period, Monessen finally took firm control by scoring ten straight points. That was the ball game.

Statistically, the Hounds made 21 field goals out of 60 attempts for 35 per cent gunning. Brownsville hit on 12 of 45 tries for 27 per cent accuracy.

Monessen's season-long record now stands at 6-4. Brownsville has a similar slate.

Last night's lineups follow:

Martinez Batters Chestnut Easily

WASHINGTON, D. C. (UP) — Featherweight Isador Martinez of Panama was "ready for all comers" today but his latest victim, Ike Chestnut, conceded, "I never want to see him again."

"I'll take on anybody including Sandy Saddler," said Martinez after his unanimous, upset 10 - round decision over Chestnut in Friday night's nationally televised bout. "I intend to stay in the United States and maybe become a citizen. Chestnut was not too tough."

Martinez made an impressive U.S. debut as he bobbed and weaved through 10 rounds that had the 10th-ranked featherweight contender thoroughly confused. The shifty Martinez paused at various times to wink and smile at Chestnut to the delight of the Capital Arena crowd.

Dodgers Sign Young Pitchers

BROOKLYN, N. Y. (UP)— The Brooklyn Dodgers today signed three young pitchers and invited the Pacific Coast League's biggest winner in 1956 to work out with them during spring training.

Don Drysdale, Ken Lehman and Karl Spooner came to terms with Vice President Buzzy Bavasi, bringing the Dodgers' satisfied list to six.

The Dodgers also invited right-hander Rene Valdes, a 22 - game winner with Portland of the PCL, last season, to be with them at Vero Beach, Fla., next spring.

Flowers Signs With Canadians

OTTAWA (UP) — Former Purdue University star end Bernie Flowers, who was cut by the Baltimore Colts of the National Football League after a two year hitch in the U.S. Navy, has signed a 1957 contract with the Ottawa Rough Riders of Canada's Big Four Football Union. Flowers played with Ottawa in 1953 and scored nine touchdowns.

North, South Rated 'Even'

MOBILE, Ala. (UP)—The North and South were rated at even money when they met in the 8th annual Senior Bowl game today before a crowd of 36,000 including 23 pro scouts and coaches.

No fewer than 22 of the 50 players in the contest have already been signed to play in professional ball.

The North, coached by Joe Kuharich of the Washington Redskins, is expected to rely heavily on the passing of Purdue's Len Dawson. The South, led by Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns, is countering with a passing attack of its own led by Charley Curtis of Texas Christian.

Bellmar Off to Losing Start at California

Bellmar's rusty Hurricanes fell behind in the early moments and couldn't catch up at California last night, dropping a 55-51 decision in Section 5 competition.

The Canes, who haven't played a game since mid-December, trailed 26-15 at half-time.

They fought back gallantly in the closing half but it wasn't enough to overcome the early deficit.

Nat Greene, sophomore flash, paced the winners with 19 points.

Bitonti Top Scorer

For Bellmar, Jim Bitonti was high, also with 19.

The Canes outscored their foes from the floor, making 21 field goals to 20 for the Trojans. However the winners piled up their margin at the charity line, where they outpointed their guests, 15 to nine.

College Tourney Champions in Difficult Floor Tests Tonight

By UNITED PRESS

Four recently-crowned tournament champions — including top-ranked Kansas and third-ranked Kentucky—swing back into action tonight along the college basketball front.

The Jayhawks, who ran their record to 9-0 in winning the Big Seven Tournament last weekend, finally launch their regular-season conference schedule by entertaining Missouri. Kentucky, boasting an 8-2 record after walking off with the Sugar Bowl championship hosts Georgia Tech in a Southeastern Conference tilt.

Led by seven-foot Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain, who has been averaging 34 points a game, Kansas probably won't work up a good sweat against Missouri.

Cardinals Visit DePaul

Fifth - ranked Louisville, fresh from its sweep in the Blue Grass Holiday Tournament, visits DePaul while sixth - ranked Illinois opens its Big Ten campaign at Minnesota. UCLA (No. 7) completes its two-game weekend series at Idaho, and Manhattan (No. 10), the winner of the Holiday Festival Tournament at New York plays LaSalle at Philadelphia.

In other Big Ten conference tilts, Michigan is at Indiana, Ohio State at Iowa. Purdue at Michigan State and Wisconsin at Northwestern.

West Virginia and Furman battle for the Southern Conference lead of the Mountaineers' home court, while George Washington is at Richmond, and William & Mary at Davidson. In the Atlantic Coast Conference, Duke can tie North Carolina for the lead by beating North Carolina State.

Baylor entertains Texas, Rice visits Texas Christian, and Arkansas is at Texas A&M in Southwest Conference action. Other Pacific Coast Conference games are California at Washington State, Washington at Southern California, and Oregon State at Stanford.

The San Francisco Dons, back home after a disastrous road trip, regained their winning touch by dumping San Jose State, 66-51, Friday night.

Wake Forest converted 23 of 24 free throws to defeat Temple, 67-59, while St. Joseph's turned back St. Francis (N.Y.), 78-70, in a doubleheader at Philadelphia.

Elsewhere, Maryland rallied in the second half to defeat Clemson, 59-52; Don Woodworth's 20 points helped Wichita down Houston, 74-56; Oregon State shaded Stanford, 64-63; Santa Clara downed Pepperdine, 73-54, and Brigham Young walloped Montana, 85-68.

Panther Cagers Meet Lafayette; Dukes at Cincy

PITTSBURGH (UP) — The Pitt Panthers and the Carnegie Tech Tartans will host other basketball teams tonight while the Duquesne Dukes continue their Ohio tour.

The Panthers (6-4) take on Lafayette (8-2) in the Pitt Memorial Field House and Penn State (5-3) invades Tech (3-5) at the neighboring Skibo floor. Duquesne (6-3) plays Cincinnati (5-2) at the Cincinnati Fieldhouse.

The opponents of Pitt and Tech were finalists in the Richland Invitational Tournament last week with Lafayette beating Penn State, 64-59, for the title.

The Panthers will try to snap Lafayette's eight - game victory streak. The invaders are paced by Bob Mantz, 6-7 center named the most valuable player in the Richmond tourney. Stuart Murray, six-foot guard, is the leading scorer with 21 points per game.

Duquesne and Cincinnati show an even split in 18 meetings. Last year the Bearcats took both contests from the Dukes.

In other college games Westminster will host St. Francis at New Wilmington, Geneva plays Baldwin-Wallace at Berea, Ohio, Alliance is at Fredonia, Fairmont (W. Va.) at California Teachers, Slippery Rock at Steubenville and Youngstown at Akron.

Draft Board Worries Ailing Sam Valentine

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (UP) —Penn State Guard Sam Valentine, ill with a cold and worried because of a delinquency notice from his draft board, apologized today to Hula Bowl officials for his sudden departure from Los Angeles.

The 205-pound football captain from DuBois, Pa., said he withdrew without notice from Sunday's Hula Bowl game because he felt "lousy with a cold."

"I was in bed for two days before the East-West game. So I decided to skip the Hula Bowl at Honolulu," he said. "The East-West game took a lot out of me."

The 22-year-old senior said he had "missed" taking a pre-induction physical in Pittsburgh because of the East-West game.

"I didn't want to miss another one," Valentine said. "I got a delinquency notice from the Selective Service and started to worry."

Valentine had accepted the invitation to the Hula Bowl some weeks ago but he departed from Los Angeles two days before the squad was to fly to Honolulu.

"I apologize for any trouble I may have caused," he said. "I was sick and wanted to spend a few days with my folks at DuBois during the holidays."

SARASOTA, Fla. (UP) — Paul Waner, baseball's famous "Big Poison" and one of seven major leaguers who collected 3,000 hits, was reported "out of danger" today after a serious attack of pneumonia.

The former Pittsburgh Pirate star won three National League batting titles during his brilliant career.

Buddy Parker Named Pro Coach of Year

NEW YORK (UP) — Buddy Parker, whose Detroit Lions finished second last season after winding up last in 1955, today was named National Football League "Coach of the Year" in the annual United Press poll.

Parker, whose Lions lost the Western Division title to the Chicago Bears by a half-game, received nine votes in balloting by 25 sports writers who covered the 1956 campaign in the various league cities.

Jim Lee Howell, who guided the New York Giants to their first Eastern Division title in 10 years and their first league championship in 18, was runnerup with six votes.

Joe Kuharich, who kept the Washington Redskins in the Eastern race until the final week of the season, was third in the voting with five ballots.

Ray Richards of the Chicago Cardinals drew four votes and the other went to Paddy Driscoll, who guided the Chicago Bears to the Western Division crown in his first season as the team's head coach.

The Lions compiled a 9-3 record last season after finishing last in 1955 with a 3-9 mark.

After the poor 1955 season, which followed the 56-10 thumping Detroit took from the Cleveland Browns in the 1954 championship game, many observers picked Parker's club to finish in the cellar again in 1956.

But the 1956 Lions, relying on the defensive strength that has made Parker one of pro football's most successful coaches, were in the thick of the Western race from the opening game.

During Parker's six seasons as head coach, the Lions won three Western and two league championships, finished second twice and last once.

Only Coach Paul Brown of the Cleveland Browns has done better during that period.

Fullmer Balks At March Bout

NEW YORK (UP)—Gene Fullmer's new hi-fi hit record goes: "When it's mink-mating time in Utah, there'll be a runout on 'Run-out Ray'."

The middleweight champion's new platter explains that the love-life of the Utah mink definitely precludes a return title bout with Sugar Ray Robinson in March and should cause a postponement till June.

It seems that Fullmer's manager, Marv Jenson, is a wealthy mink rancher of West Jordan, Utah. And he simply must be present as a selective cupid during the March breeding season or lose "thousands of dollars."

"And so a March fight with Robinson is definitely out," says Jenson. "I want Gene to have four over-the-weight matches, and then defend his title against Sugar Ray at Yankee Stadium in June."

It sounds like new-fangled publicity for the return brawl, which probably will be staged at the Chicago Stadium, March 13 or 20.

Use Pittsburgh Paints to Dress Home's Interior

While it's not the season for outdoors painting in most areas, nevertheless a lot of interior painting can be done now during the cold winter months to really enhance the beauty of your home.

A lot of this can be done yourself, particularly with Pittsburgh paints, sold by Derby's Construction & Supply, 443 Donner avenue, a firm that has handled this particular product in Monessen and the Valley for many years. Patrons insist on using it again and again once they have tried, proof in itself of the value of the paint product.

How about those dingy-looking floors, doors and walls? Can't you do something about them during your spare time? Acan of paint or varnish or two can work wonders and it's a good way to pass away those long Winter evenings when you don't know what to do with yourself.

You'll be surprised what a few nights work will do to really add beauty and charm to a room or two in your house.

And if the bathroom is looking drab, some enamel or other finish will add lustre here.

And how about the kitchen chairs paint on them and your kitchen will glow with light and charm.

These are just a few of the many suggestions that can be utilized we during the next few months until the outdoor painting season arrives.

Better go to Derby's, 443 Donner avenue in Monessen, right now and let them assist you in picking out the paints you'll need for the type of interior work you plan on doing.

S. A. Fronek, who joined Crucible as a metallurgist in 1925, was named to head Park Works in Pittsburgh. He moves up from assistant manager to replace S. A. Jackson who retired at the end of last year.

Reinhold Schempp, a Crucible chemist and executive for 30 years, was advanced from assistant manager to replace R. A. Schneid as manager of the Sanderson-Halcomb Works in Syracuse, the largest tool steel plant in the world.

MINEOLA, N.Y. (UP) — A Mineola manufacturing firm will begin production soon on a "crash pillow" which its inventor believes will greatly reduce injuries in survival airplane crashes and forced landings.

The pillow, invented by pioneer aviator Assen Jordanoff, is designed to cushion the impact when a plane makes other than a normal landing.

DeSoto Styling and Comfort Features Heighten Safety, Too

Detailing the many new safety advances on his company's 1957 cars, L. Irving Woolson, president of De Soto, states: "Many styling and comfort advances which seemingly add only to improved appearance and ease actually help make our new cars the safest possible on the road today." Frank's Service Garage, 122 East Donner avenue, is DeSoto-Plymouth dealer here.

New Torsion-Aire Suspension

Mr. Woolson cites De Soto's new suspension system. Torsion-Aire ride, as typical. "Not only does Torsion-Aire give the smoothest, most comfortable automobile ride ever offered" he says, "it greatly improves roadability and ease of handling for safer driving."

Torsion-Aire is explained as a completely new and revolutionary suspension system with various components, all definite safety factors.

Safety-Sphere jo ints help eliminate wheel-turn friction. Torsion-bar front suspension minimizes front-end nose diving on quick braking and greatly reduces sway on curves. New, longer rear springs, mounted outside of the frame, and "sealeg" mounted Oriflow rear shock absorbers, effect safer cornering and eliminate rear-end "whip".

New 14-inch Super-Soft cushion tires, mounted on wider rims, offer greater road grip area. The tires also feature a new tread design for added traction, particularly on wet pavement.

All of the foregoing contributions to the ride are also dual-purpose and have safety considerations also.

No Spare Tire

Explorer station wagons in the Fireflite and Firesweep series are equipped with Captive-Air nylon tires. If punctured, they retain enough air to be driven up to 100 miles to a service point, thus eliminating the need for carrying a spare. The tire features independent double air chambers for added blowout and puncture protection.

Tail Fins Add Stability

The new cars are nearly five inches lower than the 1956 models, resulting in a much lower (and safer) center of gravity. Two large upswept, outward-canted aircraft-type tail fins offer greater directional stability at all highway speeds, besides being a styling highlight.

The new De Soto's extensive use of glass for styling also provides safer maximum visibility. Windshield glass area is increased 32 per cent over 1956. Some models feature even more glass area through compound curved windshields and rear windows.

New dual, horizontally arranged headlights, offered in states where legal, give 75 feet more visibility, even on low beam, and like the other design elements lend added safety.

Interior Design Relieves Fatigue

An interior feature with a safety aspect, according to Mr. Woolson, is a redesigned instrument panel. It has easier-to-read instrument groupings, including a new Accuribbon speedometer. The latter is a horizontal red band which moves to right or left over the field of large numbers indicating m.p.h. It resembles a thermometer lying horizontally and is easily read without distraction from driving.

A safety dash pad which covers the instrument panel top is also offered this year. The cushion material is isocyanate foam plastic, giving better energy absorption and greater protection than foam rubber. The pad covering is a fashionable vinyl, with a non-glare finish for added safety.

Also new is a recessed-hub steering wheel with flexible spokes which provide a cushion in sudden stops. Because of the danger of long trips, De Soto has incorporated a number of other comfort-safety devices such as a new six-way, power-operated front seat, affording a great variety of seat positions.

The rear view mirror (a prismatic type is optional) is now relocated on top of the instrument panel, giving greater rearward vision without a forward "blind spot". Its ball-joint-and-arm design allows wide flexibility.

An outside-mounted right-and-left rear view mirror package gives more all-around visibility.

New variable speed electric windshield wipers, with relocated pivots and longer arms and blades give 38 per cent more wipe area.

Since some safety experts believe summer heat to cause driver fatigue, and winter imposes possible dangerously distracting discomforts, De Soto's new 4-Season air conditioner is considered an added safety feature. The compact unit, mounted on the engine firewall, cools in summer and heats in winter. It's operated by a simple easily-reached set of dash-mounted controls.

Power For Safety

The new De Soto has an improved power-for-safety factor, says Mr. Woolson. The three new engines and the various transmission combinations, including the new Torqueflite, give greater acceleration at highway speeds for quicker, safer passing, etc.

Other new safety features offered are improved Full-Time power steering, and more efficient power brakes, both optional. Improved lower-cost safety seat belts are also available. Redesigned Total-Contact brakes, which give greater stopping ability, are standard.

Other features which proved popular and valuable in 1956 (there were 12 new safety features offered in 1956) are retained, with added improvements. These include De Soto's commanding triad tail lights, tinted plastic sunvisors (new in 1957), safety door-locks and the push-button gear selector console, mounted to the driver's left, beyond the reach of small children for added safety.

New recessed pull-type door handles on all models prevent finger pinching or other minor hand injuries and do not project from the car side.

John Says:

You can buy an awful lot of anti-freeze for the price of a new radiator or motor block. Let me recheck your cooling system to be sure there's more "anti" than "freeze."

Not All ROTC To Be Active

WASHINGTON (UP)—The Army said today that "only a portion" of the 14,000 ROTC officers, commissioned between May 1, 1957, and April 30, 1958, will be ordered to active duty for two years.

The remaining ROTC graduates will have six months of active duty training followed by seven and one-half years of service in the ready reserve.

The Army said the number which will be ordered to two years of active duty has not yet been determined.

The Air Force and Navy said present plans call for all of their ROTC graduates commissioned this spring to be ordered to active duty.

Police Guard Railroad Union Official's Home

MONTREAL, Que. (UP)—Police today guarded the home of railroad union official William E. Gamble who was threatened with violence for starting a strike that has crippled the Canadian Pacific Railway and left some 70,000 men unemployed.

Gamble, Canadian vice president of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, told police two men telephoned his wife and threatened to harm him and blow up his suburban Dorval, Que., home.

There was no sign of an end to the strike which was called Wednesday by the Cleveland headquarters of the brotherhood to protest CPR plans to eliminate firemen from some diesel trains.

Gamble said the union was prepared to operate relief trains carrying emergency supplies if their crews include men selected from his 2,800 striking firemen.

Railway president Norris R. Crump did not reply.

There was no sign that either side had further negotiations in mind. It was reported in Ottawa that the tie-up would be discussed at a cabinet meeting scheduled for Monday. Some sources said the cabinet might consider drafting legislation for Parliament to step in, as it did during a nationwide CPR and Canadian National Railway strike in 1950, but this could not be confirmed.

Wed One Day, Inherits $80,000

NEW YORK (UP) — An Irish bride of one day will inherit the $80,000 estate of her husband who died on his wedding night, Queens public administrator John Glenn said Thursday.

The husband, Richard Hoyne, 72, a retired subway motorman, went to Ireland about a year ago. He met and married Margaret Delaney, 45, while on the visit to his native country.

Hoyne died in a Dublin hotel a few hours after their wedding. He left no will and his estate, consisting of a $60,000 apartment house in Jackson Heights, Queens and $20,000 in cash will go to his widow, Glenn announced.

Pardons Board To Hear Plea

The board will hear the commutation appeal of Glenn A. Leamer, who is slated to be executed at Rockview Penitentiary Feb. 11.

Leamer beat his 92-year-old grandfather, Samuel J. Leamer, with a piece of iron pipe and choked him to death at his grandparent's Frankstown Twp. home, Nov 2, 1955 He removed the victim's wallet before throwing the stone-weighted body in an abandoned quarry near Williamsburg.

George's Trowel Used by Ike In Cornerstone

WASHINGTON (UP)—President Eisenhower today equipped himself with George Washington's silver trowel to lay the cornerstone of the State Department's huge new headquarters.

The President reserved a few minutes in his busy schedule to participate in the cornerstone laying ceremonies before calling on Congress to enact an Eisenhower Doctrine for the Middle East.

Mr. Eisenhower planned no formal remarks since the ceremony begins only 90 minutes before his address to Congress.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, Chief Justice Earl Warren and members of foreign embassies planned to attend the ceremonies at the building site located near the Lincoln Memorial.

The trowel to be used by the President was used by George Washington on Sept. 18, 1793 to lay the cornerstone of the U.S capitol. It was used by President Roosevelt in 1939 at the laying of the Thomas Jefferson Memorial.

Your Health—

Don't Take Appendicitis Risks

By H.N. BUNDESEN, M.D.

A simple pain or cramp in the abdomen isn't always a signal to call your doctor. No one wants to summon his physician at each little tinge of discomfort.

A persistent pain, however, is quite another matter. Not only is it a sign to notify your doctor right away, it's also a warning that you should go to bed and stay there. For a persistent abdominal pain might mean appendicitis. And appendicitis always means you need medical help.

Going to bed benefits you in two ways. For one thing, it is the most comfortable place for anyone with appendicitis. For another, there is less chance of any infection spreading to other parts of your body when you lie still.

By remaining in bed and being as quiet as you can under the circumstances, you will help to localize any infection which might be present.

There are two theories of thought on the use of an ice bag. There is no doubt that cold tends to localize an infection while heat does just the opposite. At the same time, cold tends to deaden the pain, and a victim of appendicitis might be in severe pain.

Yet because it does help to kill the pain, many doctors caution against continued use of an ice bag. When your pain vanishes, they reason, you might be fooled into believing that the attack is over.

Such a misconception could result in your getting out of bed and moving about a great deal. I've already explained the need for remaining still.

As long as your abdominal pain remains undiagnosed, don't take a laxative. Don't eat anyting, either. See your doctor. If your trouble really is appendicitis, any violent action by your stomach might cause rupture of the appendix.

Question and Answer

K. M.: I now live in a temperate climate! The sun seems to help my psoriasis. Would moving to a warmer climate permanently eliminate it?

Answer: Psoriasis is often greatly helped by sunlight. Moving to a climate where there is a great deal of sunshine might benefit your case. However, an ultraviolet lamp might be of just as great benefit.

BABY WITH MANY GODFATHERS

Careful attention is given to the formula fed to first baby gorilla born in captivity.

FEW men, it is safe to say, have ever been godfathers to a baby gorilla, but that's the unique honor—if you consider it one — befalling zoo directors from Cleveland, New York, Kansas City, St. Louis, Oklahoma City, Chicago and Toledo. They all were invited to a banquet recently in Columbus to meet the first gorilla born in captivity. Unnamed as yet, the 4½-pound infant was born at Columbus zoo. Proud parents are Baron and Christine. The godfathers were presented with copies of the birth certificate, signed with the infant girl's footprints. Each guest gave the baby a part of its bottle formula and congratulated, at a distance, the parents. The baby is under the 24-hour watch of attendants. The zoo superintendent, Earl Davis, and his staff changed the infant's formula after the second day. Just as in human hospitals, visiting hours are restricted to a few daily.

Into incubator she goes. She's watched constantly.

Weight is checked often by Columbus zoo attendants.
